Laws Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions and Arrearages. 1. Subscribers who do not give express no-tice to the contrary, are considered wishing to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid. 3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills, and ordered them

If subscribers move to other places with-out informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held

5. The Courts have decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud."

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and takes use of it, whether he has ordered it or makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

7. If subscribers pay in advance, they are bound to give notice to the publisher, at the end of their time, if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it on, and the subscribers, will be responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrears, is sent to the publisher.
